A new lot of those Alcohol Gas Stoves at 35c. If you have not seen them, come in and let us show you how much heat you can get for a little money.

Orchard City Drug Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson and two daughters of Kansas, who are spending the winter in California arrived to-day and will be guests at the S. G. Rodeck home for a few days, while they show them some of the glories of our section of the valley.

A. E. Segrén was the honored guest at a birthday dinner party Wednesday last week at his home on Johnson avenue. About a dozen friends from San Jose sat down with the family. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierson of Spokane, Washington, were among the guests.

Betsy Entertained Club

The fourth and last of the Johnson Ave. parties which was held Monday evening at the E. I. Price home was a happy climax to a series of successful evenings.

The spacious grounds and drive-way were illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and the house recalled to mind descriptions of colonial mansions, with its myriads of candles, whose light was supplemented by more modern means.

The usual good time was enjoyed with games of various kinds, followed by an appetizing lunch, and then the awarding of prizes was made, in a quite unique way. The names of all present were read in the order of their scores for the different games and the guests chose their own prize from an assortment of wrapped packages. There was a great variety of trophies, including dainty hand work, toys, and other articles that produced much interest and merriment.

Walter Stray headed the list for the gentlemen at "500," (by what means he best knows) with H. C. Smith second and Mrs. R. G. Archibald first for the ladies and Mrs. C. E. Copeland of San Jose second.

Of the bridge players, Mrs. W. N. Stray held the honors for the ladies and Mr. Copeland for the gentlemen. However, with the unique method of distribution, it mattered little "who was who."

Betsy Duncan, an inanimate lady, with most capacious inside pockets, which she allowed to be picked for a nickel, was a most popular creature, netting the treasury a good collection of "jits."

Those who have attended any or all of the festivities regret that this concludes the series, and hope that the club will institute some other social events.

Locals Win Again

Saturday the High basketekers captured another game, winning over the fast Redwood City quintet by a score of 38-45. The game was played inside which put our boys to a disadvantage for a time and the first half resulted 20 to 24 with the Sequoians leading. During the second half as the floor became more familiar, the locals developed a speed that fairly took their opponents off their feet, scoring about 15 points during the last ten minutes of play.

The line-up:

Lecturer Coming

The Leaguers are very pleased to announce that for the second number on their entertainment course they have been able to secure Dr. Geo. W. White of San Francisco on his wonderful lecture, "The Black Napoleon," a lecture founded on history but told in story form and intensely interesting. This lecture has been given more than 150 times throughout this state alone and has been repeated from 2 to 5 times in the same place.

"The Black Napoleon" by Dr. Geo. W. White is a lecture first-class in every respect. In conception, in comprehension, in historical research, in delivery, it is a powerful representation of a most interesting and pathetic subject. We have heard this lecture twice and enjoyed it the second time more than the first.—Ex.

Be A Booster

The good people of Campbell are just a little slow in giving their financial assistance to the athletic events scheduled for Washington's birthday. Possibly it is not generally known that the proceeds will go toward defraying expenses of the visiting clubs, and the remainder, if there be any, is to be equally divided between the high school athletic fund and the Campbell Athletic club. Should it rain on the 22nd all money will be refunded to purchasers upon the presentation of their tickets at the Press office. Now, everybody, whether you believe in athletics or not, show your good-fellowship and help along a good thing. Be a booster. Help advertise Campbell. The tickets are 25c, and admit the purchaser to basketball at 2 p. m. and a base-ball game at 3 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCaughey came from the San Joaquin Sunday to spend a time with their daughter, Mrs. T. A. Robinson and family.

Mrs. Rufus Preston and sons, came up from Watsonville this week and will remain here for several weeks after which they will go to the San Joaquin valley where Mr. Preston has purchased a ranch.

Good Roads County Committee

The County Committee, consisting of representatives of the various Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations in the county, was fully organized at a meeting last week in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at San Jose, and from now on it will be working every day for the promotion of the proposed bond issue for good roads. In order that the Executive Committee, which will be the working committee and will have to meet very frequently and be in constant touch with affairs, may the more easily accomplish its work, the County Committee decided that the members should be selected from an area in and near San Jose, hence the following were chosen: W. C. Bailey, Chairman; A. J. Thedfeck, Sunnyside; B. Furnish, Santa Clara; E. E. Chase and H. D. Melvin. W. C. Bailey was elected Chairman of the County Committee and Joseph T. Brooks its Secretary.

The meeting, which represented practically every section of the county, unanimously adopted a resolution to the effect that the Board of Supervisors be requested to call an election at the very earliest possible moment for the purpose of placing before the people the question of the insurance of bonds in the sum of $1,500,000 for the construction of permanent roads and parks in the county, and the committee will appear before the Board when the matter comes up before them.

The civic organizations in San Jose and vicinity held a rousing meeting Tuesday evening and adopted a similar resolution, and their representatives also will appear before the Board.

The campaign for more good roads in this county is about to begin in earnest, Monday morning the Board of Supervisors fixed Thursday, March 15, as the day upon which a special election shall be held to determine whether the county shall issue bonds in the sum of $1,500,000 for the construction of 182 miles of permanent roads in the valley. The rooms of the Supervisors were filled with well-known citizens representing every section of the county, and with few exceptions they were unanimous in favor of the bonds. Many women also were present and some of them spoke. Not for many years have so many taxpayers representing so many varied interests of the county assembled at one time in the rooms of the Supervisors, and the fact that they gave their time to appear there is evidence of the great interest they take in the promotion of the good roads campaign.

The County Committee, which was recently organized by the chambers of commerce in the various cities and towns throughout the valley; will now get busy, and its executive committee will have its hands full, as the campaign will be brief and will require continuous labor. A mass meeting will be called soon, and good roads literature, informing the taxpayers as to the facts concerning road taxes and how they will be lowered by the method proposed, will be sent out to every chamber of commerce and civic organization in the county for distribution.

Auto School

Several classes in Automobile Work are to be opened in San Jose by the Extension Division of the University of California. The first meetings of these classes take place on Friday, February 9, and Saturday, February 10, at the San Jose High school.

The instruction is adapted to the needs of owners, drivers, machinists, and automobile experts. Three of the classes will deal with automobile construction, adjustments, road repairs, etc., while one course, which is given on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock, takes up the application of electricity to automobiles.

Lessons are to be given once a week by an instructor sent from Berkeley by the University. Fifteen lessons constitute a course, and a tuition fee of $5.00 is to be paid by each student upon enrollment in the course. Only the first meeting will take place at the high school; subsequent meetings will be held at various garages and automobile agencies in San Jose.

The C. E. society will hold one of its delightful socials at the Manse Saturday evening. All the young people of the church are invited.

Mrs. Dwight Van Arsdell was here from Hollister this week visiting relatives, returning yesterday. Miss Myrtle Dunham accompanied Mrs. Van home for a visit. Dwight is "some cook," but since he got married he somehow tires of his own cooking in a very short time, and sends the grand hailing sign of distress to his wife as soon as she gets out of sight.

WILL MAKING A BET

TESTAMENTS OF NOTED LAWYERS OFTEN SET ASIDE.

Questioning the Sanity of the Deceased the Usual Method of Evading His Wishes as to Disposition of His Property.

Will making is the great post mortem lottery of civilized man. His will is, as it were, a lottery ticket which he buys to give away, and whether those to whom he gives the tickets draw prizes or blanks is one lottery the more.

When a will does not suit the relatives of the deceased (and that is an occurrence by no means rare) it is customary to contend that the will maker "was not in his right mind." In order to "crack" a will, says Uncle Dudley in the Boston Globe, we contend that the will maker was "cracked," and as many wills are made in that period technically known as "second childhood," it is usually not difficult to show that the testator was at least eccentric. The result is that doctors, neighbors, trained nurses and relatives appraise an attentive court and a no less expectant public of all the personal peculiarities of "poor, dear Uncle William" with a view to establishing that he was not in his right mind nor anywhere near it.

Will making is the stock in trade of literature and drama. The long-lost will turning up on the tick of 12 is the recognized method of getting the distressed heroine out of her predicament and bringing down vengeance on the wicked.

A good half of our plays and novels could hardly have been plotted without the whims and stratagems of cantankerous and curmudgeonly will makers.

George Eliot, in her novel of "Middlemarch," has a scene of Shakespearean humor in which a miser's will is read after his funeral and nobody gets what he expected. Samuel Butler in his novel "The Way of All Flesh" has some amusing remarks on the parental folly of "will dangle and will shaking" to intimidate one's children, and concludes that these powers are so liable to abuse that he would pass a law, if he could, to incapacitate any man from making a will for three months from the date of each offense of that kind and let the judge dispose of his property as seemed best if he died during the time when his will-making power was suspended.

Two founders of the American Republic were wise in their generation on the subject of will making—Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson. Franklin left $5,000 to his native town of Boston and a similar amount to Philadelphia to aid young "married artificers" in starting business, and which at the end of a century was to be divided, part going for public work and part to be continued at interest for another century. The result is our industrial school, the Franklin Union. Philadelphia's fund has not fared as well as ours.

Jefferson perceived that the English custom of transmitting estates so as to keep them undivided and in a single family by laws of primogeniture and entail was one of the effective methods of creating a landed aristocracy or ruling class. Believing not in aristocracies, but in democracy, he took good care to head off that tendency, and with the result that our country is reasonably quit of at least that incubus. Actuaries figure that 70 years is about the average span within which a great family estate may be held in trust and intact under our laws.

The law itself draws a fairly equitable will for a man who dies without making one. In Massachusetts, for example, it gives, generally speaking, two-thirds to the children and one-third to the widow. It cannot, of course, take account of public bequests, but it represents the supposed wishes of a normal citizen with respect to his heirs and property.

The irony of death itself haunts the will. Great lawyers, like Samuel J. Tilden, who have made wills by the score, have their own wills set aside. The will dramatizes the shortness of human foresight. If the testator was wealthy, people ask, "How much did he leave?" and answer mockingly, "All he had."

Custom Had Origin in Plague.

For many centuries plague was a menace to all Europe. At intervals it would spread like wildfire, wiping out whole populations. In its ordinary, or "bubonic," manifestation, it depended for its distribution upon rats. But after a while it was liable to assume the "pneumonic" form, attacking the lungs.

In this form the malady spreads with frightful rapidity. The plague germs are in the air. People acquire the infection by breathing. The afflicted scatter the germs by coughing and sneezing.

It will be understood, then, how it is about that people, centuries ago, adopted the precaution of shielding the mouth by turning away the head when coughing, sneezing, or yawning. Today we continue to do the same thing, for the sake of politeness; but in reality the custom is a survival of the days when the common prevalence of plague made it a necessity.

Woman Has Unique Occupation,
Cooking for Uncle Sam's Bugs

An absolutely unique occupation is that followed by Miss Agnes Quirk. She cooks for bugs. In her model kitchen, in the department of agriculture, shown in the picture, she prepares food for millions and trillions of boarders in the bureau of plant pathology, the microscopic bacteria in 3,500 test tubes. The food material on which these bacteria live must be prepared by an expert. Miss Quirk in her kitchen averages about 40,000 tubes of culture media per annum. Her dishes are washed in distilled water, dried in alcohol and sterilized by baking in a hot oven for more than one hour.

STAGES INTO DISCARD WEALTH IS SCATTERED

Automobiles Replace Horses in Yellowstone Park.

Uncle Sam Decides That Picturesque Vehicles Must Give Way to More Modern Transportation.

The old slow-going, picturesque horse-drawn stages have passed forever from the Yellowstone National park. They will be supplanted by comfortable, ten-passenger automobiles, which will run the visitor rapidly through the long stretches of lodge-pole forests that intervene between the spots of special interest. The hurried visitor may then spend a minimum of time in travel and have more time at the geysers, the lake and the canyon. The leisurely visitor may linger as he pleases at the points which command his special interest. But one may, if he chooses, hire a horse-drawn surrey.

The passing of the horse is one of the result of an entire reorganization made by Uncle Sam of the living and transportation facilities of Yellowstone. By agreement of the concessioners, three new companies will supplant the half-dozen or more which have existed heretofore. A new transportation company has been organized to furnish motor service for the entire park. The hotel company will also reorganize on a broader basis, and the camps will combine on a basis which, with new equipment and increased facilities, will give the public a greatly bettered service.

The passing of the horse-drawn stages has enabled the interior department to so simplify the schedules that the private motorist will have as much freedom in the park, within reasonable regulations for the public safety, as upon the common highways without.

With these sweeping constructive changes the department believes that the Yellowstone National park will enter upon a period of extraordinary public usefulness and comfort.

SEEKING OIL AND GAS LANDS

Uncle Sam Has Geologists at Work on Investigations for the Benefit of the Public.

Uncle Sam now has a corps of trained geologists working throughout this country to obtain information that will assist in developing the oil and gas resources, but their work, unlike that of the geologists in the employ of oil and gas companies, is done for the benefit of the country as a whole, and the landowner as well as the oil man can make use of the information it obtains.

It is now generally conceded that the work of locating places where oil and gas are likely to be found by drilling is a task for painstaking and scientific geology. Although geologists do not brag that they can positively determine whether oil and gas can be found in any special region, they can locate the geologic structures—the rock arches and domes—which have a great influence on the accumulation of oil and gas. For this reason most of the large oil companies are now employing geologists to guide them in leasing and in locating exploratory wells.

Change Shown by Location of Biggest National Banks.

Hundred Largest Institutions Now Are Distributed Through 22 States, Uncle Sam Reports.

That the wealth of the country is being distributed more widely and not concentrated in a few of the larger cities as it was a few years ago is indicated by a statement of Uncle Sam regarding the location of the hundred largest national banks of the country. Officials of the treasury department attribute this change largely to the operation of the new federal reserve system.

Formerly the one hundred largest national banks in the United States were congested principally in a comparatively few financial centers. Today the big banks are distributed through 22 states and in 33 cities, embracing every section of the country. The 100 national banks with the largest resources as shown by a recent call, all have resources in excess of $20,000,000, with one exception, the exception being one of the Chicago banks.

Oklahoma, Alabama, Louisiana, Virginia, Washington, New Jersey and Oregon each contain one of the 100 largest banks.

Texas, Nebraska, Maryland, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin each contain two of these banks.

Colorado has three.

Ohio, Minnesota and Massachusetts each have five.

California and Illinois have seven each.

Missouri has eight.

Pennsylvania has 16.

New York has 25.

In two months the resources of the 100 largest banks increased $550,000,000, or nearly 9 per cent.

Outside of the central reserve cities the large banks which showed increases of as much as $5,000,000 each in deposits in this period were those located in Dallas, New Orleans, Buffalo, Kansas City, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Boston.

Among the 100 largest banks were only five which did not show an increase. Three of these banks showing reductions were located in New York and two in California. The largest reduction shown by any one of these five banks was less than $2,250,000.

The largest percentage of increase was shown by a bank in Texas, which increased over 33 per cent, or over $6,000,000.

Australians Like Cities.

Uncle Sam's consul general at Sydney is struck by the unusually large urban population in Australia. Sydney, with a population of 763,000, represents over 40 per cent of the people of New South Wales; Perth, with a population of 122,000, represents 38 per cent of the inhabitants of western Australia; Brisbane, with 162,000, represents nearly 24 per cent of the people of Queensland; Hobart, with 40,000, has under 20 per cent of the people of Tasmania; Melbourne, with a population of 684,000, contains 48 per cent of the total population of Victoria; and Adelaide, with 205,000, has over 46 per cent of the people of South Australia.

Shocks Awaiting Laggard Lovers

By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

Do you think because you fall me,
And draw back your hand today,
That from out the heart I gave you
My strong love can fade away?

What would any man think of a man who came courting his sister, season in and season out, but never made any pretensions of being a marrying man?

That's the situation in many a family where young men have been calling for a year or more. The reason for not speaking out is often justifiable. The man may be waiting for a raise in his salary, or a score of other good reasons. Being sure that the girl he is calling on regularly is in love with him, he considers it justifiable to wait until he is good and ready to propose. It is a decided shock to such a laggard to see a stranger step in and in no time win the girl from before his very eyes. He has only himself to blame.

There are a few little things about girls that men should remember. One is that their interest is keenest in a young man during the stage of their earliest acquaintance. After a girl has summered and wintered a man and he has not proposed, her interest begins to dwindle. She looks upon him as a friend, and begins to cast sheep's eyes on other men as possible beaux. No man should be too sure of a girl's love until he has placed a betrothal ring on her finger. Even then, he should see that the marriage is not put off too long.

A pretty girl once had one of these laggard lovers of whom she thought a great deal. But pop the question he would not. Her aunt advised her not to waste time with him. At an afternoon affair, to which she had gone with girl friends, she met a new admirer, who escorted her home. They encountered the old beau. His jealousy was straightway aroused. The sight of her with another showed him how dear she was to him. The question faced him as to what life would be without her if another won her. He called that evening and lost no time in asking her to be his wife, declaring that an open confession was good for the soul. He had been too sure of her and because of that came near losing her.

The wise girl does not devote all of her time to one caller. She treats him as she finds him—simply as a friend—until he has given her reason to be assured otherwise. There would be no long-drawn-out courtships which end in parting if girls pursued this plan.

Common Sense Exercises.

Do simple setting up exercises, especially rotary abdominal exercises for five or ten minutes every morning, advises Cleveland Moffet in McClure's Magazine. Form the habit of doing abdominal exercises or muscles tensing and flexing exercises at odd times through the day. You can do these anywhere without attracting attention.

Walk three or four miles a day and form the habit of breathing deeply and rhythmically through the nose as you walk—so many strides (usually five or six) to the outgoing breath, then the same number of strides to the incoming breath. Do this rhythmic breathing occasionally as you feel like it, and avoid making this or any other part of your plan irksome or monotonous. Do these things because you wish to do them. Do not force yourself to do them against your will. Train your will to be a consenting, approving, a controlling power behind your actions.

Poultry Pointers

A hen, like a human being, needs to be made comfortable in order to do the best work.

As soon as the breeding season is over the male birds should be separated from the hens.

The business of our domestic hen is to produce plenty of eggs, and we must feed her for them.

Ducks and geese require deep drinking vessels, especially if reared and kept on land.

Spilled or decaying flesh, if eaten, will surely cause limberneck. Burn or bury the dead.

A little beef scraps or cut, fresh bone will help the pullets and the well-moiled hens to start laying.

Feeding fowls on one grain, or not feeding them enough, is very expensive, because it produces a loss instead of a profit.

Remember that an egg is more than half water and that the fowls must have plenty of clean, fresh water to drink at all times.

If the most of the grain fed to the fowls is corn it must be balanced by giving them plenty of wheat bran and beef scraps or cut fresh bone.

When the hens cannot obtain green stuff in the fields, it must be supplied to them in the form of cabbage, mangels or something of that kind.

While plenty of fresh air is neces-

Men are at fault in calling upon one girl steadily when they have no serious intentions of matrimony. If they call upon many young women, making no secret of the fact, no one maiden is apt to build her hopes upon them, only to be disappointed at last.

Paying Doctor to Keep One
Well Not a Fantastic Idea

We haven't yet learned to take advantage of the resources of civilization in anything like the extent we might. For instance, we wait until we get sick and then we pay the doctor to help us get well. It would be much more sensible to pay him to help us keep from getting sick.

Fantastic idea, you say. Not at all. It already is working in a large number of college communities. Right here at home, in the state universities of Missouri and Kansas, for instance, says the Kansas City Star. In both institutions the pupil is charged a fee which is applied to safeguarding his health. In the University of Missouri the plan is still further developed so that the fee covers medical and surgical attendance.

The important point is that these universities and other schools are proving that health can be made much more of a community matter than has been supposed and that the wise thing to do is for groups to pay medical men to keep them well.

Billions in "Movies."

Every time you visit the movies you help to pay the wages of 205,000 employees who draw $2,300,000 weekly. There are 21,600 moving-picture theaters in the United States and about $2,000,000,000 invested in the business.

Iron Duke's Doctor Still Living.

It is rather bewildering to read in these days that one of the Iron Duke's medical attendants is still alive. Yet it is a fact. The victor of Assaye and Waterloo died in 1852, and it was in the year before that he was attended by a very young medical man attached to one of the London hospitals. Recently the doctor in question, Dr. Henry F. Holland, celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday at Godalming.—London Globe.

sary to keep the fowls in good health, it must be admitted to the henhouse in such a way that a draft does not blow on the fowls, especially at night when they are on the roost.

Walking Chalkline.

The same sensations, minus the alcohol, experienced by an intoxicated person who is trying to walk in a straight line or on a narrow sidewalk which is only thirty inches wide, can be had by anyone who takes the trouble to draw a straight line on the floor and then look at the line through a pair of opera glasses in a reversed position, says the Popular Science Monthly. After the glasses are focused try to walk on the line. You will find it impossible to follow it closely. The line will look like an ink scratch on a surface miles away, and the closer you look and try to follow the line the more vexed your vision becomes, and as a result your feet wander from side to side, getting farther away from the line all the time.

Even with the naked eye it is difficult to "walk the chalk" for any distance without growing dizzy and staggering suspiciously.

S-mack!

"When you come right down to it," remarked the old man, "the dimple in a girl's cheek is one of the prettiest things in the world."

"Yes—when you come right down to it," admitted the young man.

MILK AS A "BRACER"

By DAVID STONE KELSEY.

The Pasteur Institute of Paris makes the declaration that one of the most powerful stimulants known is milk. It has been in use for months now as the one stimulant for the French soldiers in the trenches, and its effect on them has amply justified the statement made by the famous Institute in regard to it.

Milk has been used liberally to stimulate the French soldiers before they go into battle and its effects have been such that the French government has urged the sale of milk in preference to other soft drinks behind the trenches when the soldiers go off duty for their spells of rest and recreation.

That the qualities of stimulation should be demonstrated on the fighting men should commend the beverage to those engaged in the pursuits of peace in those parts of the world where Mars does not now rule. While alcohol may fire the brain and dull the sensibilities and thus impart a false courage, milk, according to the learned scientists of the Pasteur Institute, performs the work of keying up the individual without affecting the keenness of his senses or the coolness of his judgment. High courage and a clear perception of what they are doing is necessary for the best work in all the arts and professions, as well as in the handicrafts and in trade.

This fluid hitherto has been considered synonymous with all that is mild and peaceful. Advocates of preparedness have referred to "these milk-and-water pacifists." The "milk of human kindness" has no suggestion of powerful stimulation.

But science has discovered, among its many wonders, that the patient cow has put a punch in milk that necessitates the addition of no product of the still to make itself felt on the human system. It has discovered a new and a harmless "bracer."

New Optical Device Rival
of Telescope in Probing
Mysteries of the Heavens

An optical device, which is said to rival if not surpass the telescope in revealing the mysteries of the heavenly bodies, was exhibited at a recent meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York. The invention was exhibited by Dr. John A. Brashear of Pittsburgh.

"This instrument is called a diffracting grating," said Doctor Brashear, as he showed what looked like a rectangular piece of metal about 2 by 4 inches long that changed colors under the electric lights. "On the plane surface of this polished plate, made accurate to one-tenth of a light wave, or within one-forty-five-thousandth of an inch, are ruled more than 45,000 lines between which there is no greater error than one-two-millionth of an inch.

"With this delicate piece of apparatus, made possible, first, by rigorous scientific research; second, by the skill of the artisan; third, by a knowledge of and vigorous care to avoid temperature changes, and, fourth, by the accuracy of the mechanism, the astrophysicist has been able to tell the composition, temperature and distance of the stars."

Wise and Otherwise

It makes any man nervous to have a woman gaze at him.

He is a poor sign painter who cannot make a name for himself.

It is easy for a man to follow advice that meets with his own views.

A woman may know just what to say, but she invariably adds more to it.

And the girl who counts on her fingers never overlooks the engagement finger.

A revolution may be the same thing over again.

He's a wise butcher who can make both ends meet.

An egotist imagines he is in the best society when alone.

If the good die young it is because they have no say about it.

No, Cordelia, the clearing house has no connection with the weather bureau.

It is easy to appreciate the fine points of a sermon when they jab the other fellow.

Every man is satisfied that he is worth more to his employer than his pay envelope indicates.

Somewhat the more you are willing to do for your friends the less time you have in which to do things for yourself.

Houses Go to Sea.

Houses do not often go to sea in a boat, but quite a number of those belonging to the Pan-American exposition at San Francisco are having this experience. They have been sold to buyers at a distance and are being transported in barges drawn by tugs. The Ohio building, which is 132 feet long, 50 feet wide and nearly 50 feet high, has been moved 32 miles down the bay to San Carlos, where it will be used for a clubhouse. Two 600-ton barges were so placed that they were out of water at low tide, when the building was placed upon them, and floated out at high tide.

Showing It.

"I hear Miss Gladys is decidedly pro-ally."

"I should say she is. She went so far as to take French leave at the ball when they started to dance the german."

Safety in the Home

Part of Woman's Daily Duty

Every woman in charge of a household realizes that it is a large part of her duty to keep that household well.

In this task she must know the simple home remedies to be applied at the first symptom of illness. Coughs and colds are two of the foes she must constantly combat, and digestive disturbances need immediate attention. Thousands of American housekeepers have found the most help to come from ever-ready-to-take

PERUNA

Because Peruna has established itself as the reliable family medicine of America, in the 45 years it has been before the public, the forehanded housekeepers keep it ready for instant ministrations in the period of depression that precedes a cold, or when stomach troubles manifest themselves. Both of these disorders are caused by inflammation of the delicate membranes lining the breathing apparatus and the digestive tract. Peruna clears away the waste, aids the membranes in recovering from inflammatory conditions and tones up the system. Its effectiveness is the reason that so many depend upon it, and its long record of merit maintains it as the dependable home tonic.

Tablet or liquid form—both good. Our free booklet may help you. At your drug-gist or write us.

White Eskimos.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson is having a difficult time with his "blond Eskimos" and by this time doubtless wishes that they were more brunette and ordinary. They hold up his men and rob them of everything removable, and utterly decline to consider the explorers a superior race. Yet when they are visited by an epidemic of influenza they attribute their misfortunes to the witchcraft of the strangers.

Hitherto newly discovered peoples have been greatly impressed by the white skins of the discoverers. The civilized races of Peru and Mexico respected the complexion of the Spaniards as much as they feared their firearms. A pallid physiognomy is one of the greatest assets of the white man who penetrates to regions where white skins are unknown.

His Diet.

With flapjacks, bacon, coffee, eggs, I smooth the nighttime wrinkles out.

(The cook says I have hollow legs To carry so much food about), And then I light a fat cigar And gayly hop upon a car.

For luncheon I have something light: Corned beef and cabbage and brown bread;

A steak, a chop I take at night, Another era I hit the bed; A clear Habana, not too mild, Helps me sleep like any child.

My diet's just the thing for me, My state of health is almost rude; But doubtless it would fatal be To any one afraid of food.

SOME SMILES

In Doubt.

"Do your views on public questions meet with your wife's favor?"

"I've never been able to find out," answered Mr. Twobble. "Whenever I voice an opinion my wife merely hums a little tune. I don't know whether she does that to express disapproval, or merely to show that she isn't listening and doesn't intend to."

Not Worth Mentioning.

"Tommy, you've been fighting again."

"I'd hardly call it that, ma."

"But I saw you through the window. You struck that little Giltner's boy."

"An' knocked 'im out the first lick. It takes two scrappers to make a fight, ma."

Tough Luck.

"Hiram Shucker says a chap tried to sell him a sky-scraper while he was up to the city last week."

"Did Hiram fall for that?"

"Nope. But he fell in a coal hole while he was lookin' the durned thing over."

Always in Same Place.

"Conductor," said the fussy old lady, "are you sure this train will take me to Bunksville?"

"I'm reasonably certain that it will, madam. I've been traveling this route for twenty years, and to the best of my knowledge Bunksville has never eluded us yet."

A Vicious Jab.

"I understand Miss Serelaf is thinking of getting married."

"That has been the understanding hereabouts for the past fifteen years," answered the town gossip.

Progress.

"Just out, old pal?"

"Yep. I wuz in quad up to a week ago."

"How much was yer bit?"

"I did five years an' learned a new trade."

"Goin' ter reform, eh?"

"Naw, I'm goin' ter quit second-story work an' be a counterfeiter."

Eternal Rest.

"Youngie seems to be an indolent fellow."

"So he is. I suspect Loungey's idea of heaven is a vast hotel lobby filled with big leather chairs, where a person can loaf forever without having the house detective sneaking about and casting suspicious looks at him."

Speaking Roughly.

The Subaltern—Let me introduce my fiancée, old man.

His Friend—Best congratulations! The Subaltern—I've known her since she was in pinafores.

His Friend (trying to say the right thing)—So you can be sure you are not buying a pig in a poke!—London Opinion.

Hot Air Bath in Bed.

An apparatus in which one can take a "hot air bath" in one's own bed is the invention of William F. Erath of Rosebank, N. Y. It is of semicylindrical shape and consists of half hoops connected by lazy-tong members by means of which the apparatus can be collapsed when not in use. This frame is covered with blankets or comfortable padded closely around it to form an extemporaneous chamber for the occupant.

A suitable heater or alcohol burner heats the air in a metal drum, which is connected by a pipe with an opening in the end of the bathing chamber. Another opening above it is for the disposition of the used-up air. A rod with a handle at its end, supported on a bracket, extends from the heater along the side of the bed to a point within convenient reach of the person enjoying the apparatus. By this means the heat supply can be controlled merely by reaching out an arm.

Wise and Otherwise.

Alas, for the lass who is afflicted with lassitude!

There are sermons in stones—also ice cream in bricks.

Everybody knows how everybody else ought to do things.

A man isn't necessarily two-faced because he has a double chin.

When a woman hasn't any more to say she is willing to let a man talk.

Don't follow in the footsteps of competitors; set the pace.

A woman's tongue is often responsible for her shortness of breath.

Some men get rich while others are waiting for bigger opportunities.

If there is any question, nine times out of a possible ten it's good policy not to.

MRS. KIESO SICK SEVEN MONTHS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Aurora, Ill.—"For seven long months I suffered from a female trouble, with severe pains in my back and sides until I became so weak I could hardly walk from chair to chair, and got so nervous I would jump at the slightest noise. I was entirely unfit to do my household work, I was giving up hope of ever being well, when my sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and today I am a healthy woman able to do my own household work. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find out for themselves how good it is."—Mrs. CARL A. KIESO, 596 North Ave., Aurora, Ill.

The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel. It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

Creating "Atmosphere"

"Did I understand you to say that you have been rusticated in the country?"

"Not in the country," answered the flat dweller. "I've simply been sitting around home, smoking a corn-cob pipe and reading a farm magazine."

Use Murine after Exposure in Cold, Cutting Winds and Dust. It Restores Refreshes and Promotes Eye Health. Good for All Eyes that Need Care. Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago. Sends Eye Book on request.

Little Disturbers.

"You shouldn't allow the little things of life to disturb you."

"I don't know about that. A germ is about the littlest thing I know of."

"No family line in this country will support all that is put on it."

"Oh, yes, there's one—the family clothesline."

Constipation can be cured without drugs. Nature's own remedy—selected herbs—is Garfield Tea.—Adv.

Sunshine in All Buildings.

Ask the Kid's Mother.

Willis—That new baby of mine is the smartest kid in the world.

Gillis—That's what they all say. You can't prove it.

Willis—I sure can. If you don't believe me, just ask the kid's mother and grandmothers.—Puck.

Poultry Pointers

It is well to encourage the new breeds when they are better than what we have.

The wideawake poultryman is ready for the attacks of King Winter. He believes in preparedness.

Notwithstanding that many good breeds have been imported, the fact remains that not one of them can be classed with our American production.

Be sure that fowls and growing chicks have plenty of fresh air at night and that calls for good ventilation in houses and coops.

Plenty of room on the roosts will prevent crowding and make the stock more comfortable during the hours that it rests and gains strength.

Chicken houses should be kept clean in winter as well as summer, fall as well as spring.

Be careful in handling mature geese that they do not strike you with their wings, which are very powerful and sometimes will break bones in the arm.

Don't forget that about three-quarters of every egg is water and, therefore, the fowls must have plenty of clean, fresh water at all times.

Plenty of clean, dry litter in the scratching shed is essential if you would keep the hens busy and expect lots of eggs.

When the shells break easily and collapse in the nest they need lime. It is sometimes necessary to feed bone meal in the mash.

The best egg-producing grain is wheat.

In the Theater Anyhow.

Chorus Girl—How's your little boy getting on, Mr. Judd?

Mr. Judd—Very well, indeed. He's entered the theatrical profession, too, now.

Chorus Girl—Oh! What part is he taking?

Mr. Judd—Well, he ain't exactly takin' a part, but he fetches the scene shifter's dinner.

A postal card to Garfield Tea Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., asking for a sample will repay you.—Adv.

Grand Trunk Road of Northern India Wonder Highway of the World

Search where you will you will find no highway in the whole world so romantic as the Grand Trunk road of India. A stately avenue of three roads in one—the center of hard metal, the roads on each side ankle-deep in silvery dust—fringed by double rows of trees, it runs for 1,400 miles through the vast northern plain which skirts the Himalayas, from Calcutta to far Peshawar, which keeps sentinel at the gate of Afghanistan.

From horizon to horizon it stretches like a broad white ribbon, as seeming straight as if traced by a gigantic ruler. And dotted along its entire length are hundreds of wayside rest-houses, each with its arched and turreted gateway.

For 3,000 years the Himalayas have looked down on this road and have seen it as they see it today. It was the world's greatest highway before Rome was cradled. Alexander the Great led his Greeks along it to the conquest of northern India; and Buddha himself took his daily walks along it centuries before Christ was born.

It has seen 100 generations of men come and go; yet today it is, to the eye, exactly the same as in the long-gone years when Nineveh was a proud city and our own ancestors gnawed bones in their caves.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender Little Stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels, without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.—Adv.

Passing of Doe and Roe.

In the legal calendar the 24th day of October is worthy of notice, as on that day in 1852 two individuals, though personally known to no one and enjoying an extensive reputation among lawyers, ceased to exist in England. These persons were John Doe and Richard Roe, and no two persons were more frequently referred to in legal documents. In every process of ejectment instead of the real parties to the suit being named, John Doe, plaintiff, sued Richard Roe, defendant. Their names were also inserted in criminal proceedings. This fiction was introduced into English legal practice in the time of Edward III. In consequence, it was said, of a provision in Magna Charta which required the production of witnesses before every criminal trial and henceforth, John Doe and Richard Roe were inserted as the names of the alleged witnesses, a custom which was carried across the Atlantic to this country.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.—Adv.

What They Learned.

A visitor to a Sunday-school was asked to address a few remarks to the children. He took the familiar theme of the children who mocked Elisha on his journey to Bethel—how the young ones taunted the prophet, and how they were punished when two she-bears came out of the wood and ate forty and two of them.

"And now, children," said he, "what does this story show?"

"Please, sir," came from a little girl in the front row, "it shows how many children two she-bears can hold."

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.—Adv.

Too Thin.

Mildred had just had her first dip in the ocean.

"How did you like it, dear?" asked her mother, as she fastened up the little six-year-old's frock.

No Control.

Deacon Dryden was a bitter foe of the demon rum. His clerk, Jimmy Jetro, was, in secret, quite friendly with the horrid monster.

Jimmy roomed above a store. One Sunday morning, after a session at poker, Jimmy started to descend the stairs, which abutted on the street. An overload of whiskey caused him to fall down the steps and roll to the middle of the sidewalk, just as the deacon passed on his way home from church.

"Why, James!" exclaimed the startled deacon. "What is the matter?"

"N—nothing—nothing at all," stammered Jimmy. "That's the way I always come down stairs." —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A WELL-KNOWN WOMAN SPEAKS.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"It gives me great pleasure to add my testimonial to the many you have already. I cannot say enough in praise of your great medicine, "Favorite Prescription." Had used several different medicines for woman's disorders but found none that did me any good until I got quick, excellent results. Will always sing the praises of Dr. Pierce's medicines. My mother and sisters also used them and found that they were all that was claimed for them. It is always a great pleasure to tell a suffering woman of these remedies, and I always find that whoever I tell of the good they will do is afterward ready to join in the praise. May I always be in reach of them."—Miss MATTIE LOU CARTER, 1514 S. Ardmore Ave.

Of Some Importance

It may be of interest to you to know that the management of the Columbia Hospital of San Jose in their search for a source of milk supply chose our plant as the one whose sanitary conditions were unimpeachable.

We feel that this is no small compliment to us, when we consider the care that it is necessary for the management of this institution to exercise in choosing the food supply for all their patients.

That which is used to build up one's strength while in the Hospital will also do wonders toward keeping one from under the Doctor's care.

In the Interest of the Grape

Assemblyman Pettit, a Fresno County grape grower, has introduced a bill to make the State Board of Viticultural Commissioners up-to-date and effective. This is a measure of vital importance to the grape growers of California. Fresno County is the center of the grape growing district. The county has 8000 acres in table grapes, more by a thousand acres than any other county of the State; 80,097 acres in raisin grapes, 65,000 acres more than any other county, and is second in wine grape acreage, having 22,740 acres planted to wine grapes. Thus Fresno County has 110,834 acres in grapes. The grape situation in all its relations may be said to be fairly well understood in Fresno County. The statement of the Board of Viticultural Commissioners last year that the ratification of either of the anti-alcohol measures on the ballot would ruin the grape industry of the State might mislead the people of counties like Humboldt and Del Norte where grapes are not grown. But it did not mislead the people of grape growing Fresno County. Fresno County voted overwhelmingly in favor of both measures. Naturally the grape growers of Fresno want to see the State Board of Viticultural Commissioners a useful body. As a result, the Pettit measure to make the commission useful to grape growers has been introduced.

The measure makes it the duty of the Board "to collect and disseminate useful information relating to viticulture, including the best methods of growing raisin and table grapes and the best methods of handling the same. They shall also give attention to the question of what uses can be made of wine grapes, should the manufacture of wines containing alcohol be prohibited, and of how best to transform wine grape vineyards into other uses where the growing of wine grapes is not profitable. The Board shall do all in its power to find uses for grapes which will be profitable to the growers without being harmful to the commonwealth."

The terms of four members of the commission expire in August. The probabilities are that an attempt will be made to have table grape and raisin grape growers given representation on the Board. As it is, control of the Board is overwhelmingly in the hands of men interested in the liquor traffic. There is some sentiment in the Legislature to abolish the present board, and place the viticultural interests in the hands of the Agricultural Department. The bill introduced by Mr. Pettit, with the appointment of practical grape men to the Board, may make such a move unnecessary.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wade, Tuesday, Feb. 6th, a daughter. I will serve lunch and hot Exposition scones at the Coffee club, all day Feb. 22.

MRS. BALDWIN.
W. T. Morton is driving a new Chevrolet roadster in which he made his recent trip to Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bearce were over from Morgan Hill Sunday visiting the J. J. Vandergon family.

Luella Thompson was brought home from the sanitarium yesterday afternoon and is steadily improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barron are getting settled in their new home on South Second street, having moved from the Minnie Carson home on Los Gatos road this week.

Lorin Scott has been elected student body president at the High school for the next semester. The contest was close and took most of the afternoon to decide it, Archibald Steindorf being close second.

The people of Campbell will be pleased to hear that our good citizens, Messrs. Jan Kalas and Josef Halamecek have been invited to play with the Fresno Symphony Orchestra in a concert which they will give on Feb. 19. Thus is "our" fame spreading abroad.

The many friends of Mrs. Windsor will be pained to learn that, as the result of a street car accident, she is in a hospital with a broken nose, a broken collar bone and numerous severe bruises about the face and body. At last accounts she was reported rapidly recovering notwithstanding her 81 years and will not be disfigured.

The Johnson Ave. Improvement club will hold its first annual meeting Monday afternoon. After the business hour, and election of officers. Mrs. Lou Smith of San Jose will speak to the club on Y. W. C. A. work. Each member is privileged to invite one friend, and a pleasant afternoon is anticipated.

Several Campbell students were members of the Normal party that went to Chico Friday, the Misses Catherine Cooper, Marjorie Duncan, Bernice Lloyd, Adah Nelson, and Mr. Leland Lancaster. Prof. D. H. Cramer was one of the party, attending in an official capacity. The party returned yesterday crestfallen owing to a unanimous vote of all three of their teams.

IT HAS PROVED A FAILURE! The 50 mile rural mail route, "D," out of San Jose is to-day the poorest bit of mail service foisted on the long suffering "dear peepul" that has ever been given in this territory. This route was established as an experiment with orders from headquarters to follow orders and try it out. In a short time the carrier hired another carrier at his own expense and during that time the patrons were served in good season. Recently when the extra man affair became known, he was ordered dismissed, and the regular carrier ordered to do the delivery alone. He now gets back to the San Jose post-office at all hours of the night and the patrons suffer for lack of service. One letter mailed at Campbell addressed to a party on Route "D" has already been on the way one week and at last report had not yet been delivered. The addressee lives two miles out of Campbell. San Jose office has its orders to report to Washington if this route is not a success and knowing all the facts in the case, selfish little San Jose sits quietly by and gets the credit of the added postal business. The credit may look good to the officials in Washington but the credit that said town is getting in the minds of many of the patrons is not of rosy a tint. Some of the patrons are hoping for better service after the next presidential Election.

WHY THE EXTRAVAGANCE? The state university at Berkeley sends out a weekly news letter to every newspaper and various other businesses in this state, which are more or less appreciated as a copy. But why the postage? Each news letter comes sealed with a 2 cent postage attached when mail of that class can be delivered anywhere in United States at the rate of about 20 for 1 cent. Granting a circulation of 1000 of these, weekly, which is a conservative estimate, the present cost of mailing is $20.00 per issue or over $1000 per year, while the same matter can be mailed for about 50 cents per issue a saving of $19.50 per week. Of course the Berkeley post-office will not inform the sender because of the handsome increase to the postal sales and consequent in salary. Hence the "leak." Also why use good quality of envelopes with a printed return card in the corner when paper is so high and an unprinted wrapper will serve as well? The state primary probably does the printing and the tax-payers pay for that also.

Home and School Club

The meeting of the Home and School club Monday afternoon was a well attended and profitable one.

After a short musical and literary program, matters of interest connected with the concert to be given the 22nd were discussed and it was decided the proceeds be used to start a piano fund for the new school auditorium.

The following committees were appointed to serve for the remainder of the year:

April- Subject - Co-operation. What the teachers expect of parents and what parents expect of teachers.

Mr. Kammerer, chairman, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Sawyer

May- Subject - Important movements for child welfare here and elsewhere.

Miss Thomson, chairman, Mrs. Pearl, Mrs. Templeton, Mrs. Bulmore.

June- Fathers' Night- Social.

Mrs. D. H. Cramer, chairman, Mrs. W. I. Merrill, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Shell, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Osborne.

Social Doings

Mrs. Geo. Parso was hostess Saturday afternoon to a company of lady friends at a pleasantly informal party. Needlework and conversation filled part of the afternoon.

Mrs. Parso was assisted in serving the refreshments by Mr. Ernest Parso, who impersonated a newly arrived Parisian waiter so successfully that he deceived several of the ladies, being a stranger to most of them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Merrill entertained the first company of friends in their new home Wednesday evening, where ten guests were present.

"Hearts" were played at three tables, Harold Morton finishing with the winning score. The refreshment tables were very pretty with valentine motifs, and the collation of the best.

Mrs. Merrill says she will have to entertain on the installment plan, as her new home is smaller. However, it is most dainty and attractive and they are very comfortably located.

Note of Appreciation

The following communication was read at the last meeting of the Home and School Club and upon motion a copy was ordered sent to the Fire Company and one published in the Press.

The members of the Home and School Club desire to express their appreciation of the courtesy extended them by the Fire Company in the postponement of the entertainment which they had planned for the evening of Feb. 22nd, in favor of the concert to be given under the auspices of the Club, and their regret that a misunderstanding, their request to present the first entertainment in the new auditorium, had not been laid before the school trustees.

The ladies also wish it understood that now, as on past occasions, they are ready to lend any assistance in their power to the Firemen in the preparation of their entertainment.

The J. H. Isham family will leave Campbell about March 1st, to reside in San Francisco where Mr. Isham is employed. Miss Virginia will remain until after the production of the Junior Farce for which she is cast as leading lady. Their many Campbell friends will regret to see them leave but wish them every success.

Crazy, but Rich.
Some years ago a man was arrested on the ground of insanity. His filthy dwelling was searched. Even the wall paper was lined inside with bank notes. A kitchen copper was the store place of thousands of old bank bills. The grate was filled with silver and copper coins. Jars and bottles were crammed with pennies he had collected on the streets. When the treasure was counted it totaled £25,000, and another £5,000 was in a bank!—London Tit-Bits.

Punditas Entertained

Pundita Circle held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Watrous. The rooms were prettily decorated with potted plants, pink carnations, and smilax. The program consisted of Art Talks by Mrs. Watrous, and Carrie Jacobs Bond songs by Mrs. Harry Williams. The talks were "Study Points for Pictures," and "American Masters," profusely illustrated by pictures of famous paintings. For roll call the members read sketches of the lives of famous modern American painters, and each paper was illustrated by a post-card picture of the artist's most popular painting exhibited at the Exposition.

At the close of the program the hostess turned the social hour into a birthday party for herself. Pink candles, delicious refreshments, and delightful piano solos by Mrs. Julia Toles, and Mrs. Bessie Toles, made the afternoon a merry one.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Harry W. Williams. The Circle will meet again next week for a Valentine Party at the home of Mrs. Clare Davidson, chairman of the social department in the club.
